This morning, we had problems with the coach. So, we went to Tesco, a supermarket to wait for the coach to be repaired.

We did some shopping there.

Then, when the coach was repaired at about 10.00 am we went to Birmingham and we visited Cadbury World. It is a huge factory which makes chocolate. We did a ride in a little train.

The chocolates were very good and the people very kind with us. It was founded in 1824 by John Cadbury in Birmingham. After his retirement, his two sons took his place.

We saw how to make Cadbury's chocolate.

In the afternoon, we went to the Herbert Art Gallery in Coventry. There, we saw a lot of things like old dresses, pictures and many paintings.

At 18.00 pm we went back home to spend the last evening at our families'.
